

LILIANA BOZIC, M.Sc., P.Eng.

After 12 years with the City of Calgary, Liliana recently moved to Urban Systems to see life again from the consulting side. While at the City of Calgary, Liliana was responsible for leading a number of watershed protection and sustainability initiatives, including LID, and was instrumental in developing the City's integrated stormwater management strategies and guidelines. She is a founding member of the Alberta Low Impact Development Partnership and currently serves as its Vice-President. Liliana has presented at a number of national and international conferences on topics that include sustainable stormwater management, watershed protection, and water reuse.
