

ROBERT N. HONSBERGER, MBA

Demesne Management

Robb has over 20 year's business leadership experience in real estate development operations, strategy and marketing. Robb has amassed a wealth of experience in land development projects, consulted to private and public sector clients and has past experience in both the federal and municipal governments.

Most recently Robb was responsible for Tamani Communities, the newly created land development division of Jayman MasterBuilt leading both the long term and day to day operations of this start up division of one of Alberta's largest home builders in its quest to be a vertically integrated builder developer. While with Tamani, Robb determined staffing needs, integrated land development operations into the housing operations, developed appropriate internal processes and procedures and investigated and conducted due diligence on land purchase opportunities. Robb successfully launched Tamani's first community, Riversong in Cochrane Alberta.

Prior to joining Tamani, Robb was an executive with Carma Developers, one of Alberta's largest land development and housing companies. While at Carma Robb led day to day operations as well as setting long term divisional objectives for the McKenzie Towne, Cranston and Tuscany projects. While with Carma's sister company, Coscan, Robb had responsibility for Twin Brooks in Edmonton. Robb also had responsibility for Cairns Developments, the land development arm of Carma's Saskatoon land and housing company, Cairns Homes.

Robb currently serves on the board of UDI Alberta a position he has held for seven years. He is also a director for the Fernie Alpine Ski Team and has managed several homeowner associations while with Carma.

Robb has his MBA from the University of Saskatchewan, a diploma in Urban Land Economics from the University of British Columbia and his bachelor in Urban and Regional Planning (Honours) from the University of Waterloo.
