

THOM MAHLER

Thom Mahler is the Manager of Established Community Planning with the City of Calgary. He is responsible for managing long term planning, redevelopment and land use applications for Calgary's established inner city communities. This involves planning for major urban corridors and activity centres, including transit oriented development and business revitalization zones. He was previously responsible for the review and preparation of planning and design policies for the Downtown and Beltline areas and was the project leader for the preparation of Calgary's Centre City Plan that was approved by City Council in 2007.

Thom has over 20 years of experience in city planning and has worked in the areas of development review, urban design, policy planning and economic development. In addition to his 10 years of experience with the City of Calgary, he has also practiced in Southwestern Ontario and the Lower Mainland of British Columbia. Thom holds a Master of Urban and Regional Planning degree from Queen's University and a Bachelor of Arts, Honours degree in geography from the University of Manitoba.
