

ALAN NORRIS

As President and Chief Executive Officer of Carma Developers, Alan Norris manages the overall operations of Brookfield Properties' master planned communities business in Calgary, Edmonton, Toronto, Denver, Austin and Kansas City. Alan joined Carma in 1983 in the role of Corporate Controller and assumed increasingly more senior positions over the next 11 years, when he was promoted to his current position. Prior to Alan's role at Carma he was employed with Deloitte and Touche from 1977 – 1983.

Alan is also a Director of Brookfield Homes, a NYSE listed land and housing company with operations in San Francisco, Orange County, San Diego, Northern Virginia and Hawaii.

Well known and respected in the home building industry, Alan initiated the creation of the Carma Centre of Excellence in 1998 and chaired this not-for-profit centre, which was a central voice for the training and education needs of the residential construction industry, from 1998-2007. In addition, in 1997-1998 he co-chaired an industry/provincial government/municipal government joint task force on Infrastructure Funding. Alan's active involvement in the community includes being a board member of Theatre Calgary and a member of the Leadership Committee of the Calgary Committee to End Homelessness.

Alan holds a B.A. degree in accounting and economics and two Chartered Accountant Designations, Scotland and Canada.
